HOROSCOPE

SEPTEMBER 22 - 28, 2022

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

You'll be angry if those you live with aren't pulling their weight. Such over-indulgence due to emotional upset will be your downfall. Large organizations may try to talk you out of your hard-earned cash. Your partner's a little jumpy.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

You can bet that you'll draw attention to yourself. Find out what they're up to, and see if you can pick up where you left off. Get together with friends and catch up on reading and letter writing. Spend a quiet day with the one you love.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Don't hesitate to present your unique ideas. You will have a tendency to put on pounds. Unpredictable events will disrupt your routine. Think about starting your own small business.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

You will be able to dazzle others with your obvious charm and your outgoing nature. Take time to look at any outdated papers or possible investments. Catch up on overdue paperwork. Romantic encounters will develop through colleagues.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Don't let your personal partner hold you back. Try to calm down and listen to your partner's complaints. Compromise may be necessary. You should avoid getting involved in the personal problems of colleagues. You may be torn between two possibilities. This has left you in a confused and uncertain state.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Your mate may want to pick a fight but if you're persistent with your affections their anger should dissipate. Things aren't as they appear. Don't get involved in joint ventures. Look into some personal changes.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

It's time you let your true feelings out. If you're uncertain of your feelings, keep your opinions to yourself. You can have a great time if you go out with the one you love. Sign up for seminars that will expand your business awareness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Curb or cut out that bad habit you've been meaning to do something about. You can make extra cash if you act on a hunch. Consider starting a small business on the side. Look for a marketable gimmick. If they're really interested, they'll wait.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Your personal life is going through a state of confusion. Your charm will attract members of the opposite sex. Be careful not to show your temper when dealing with the boss. Your uncanny insight will help you make the right choices.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan. 20)

Self-deception regarding your own worth may lead you down the wrong path. You are better off visiting friends or relatives than entertaining at home. Try to keep ahead of the game. You need to look into some private matters before you can proceed with your plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

This may not be the time to lend or borrow. Camping, swimming, and biking expeditions should all be considered. Travel and creative hobbies will be your best outlet. It's time to get yourself back on track.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

You may have a problem at work with a female coworker. You are likely to be left alone if you aren't willing to bend just a little. You have bent over backward trying to help them and now it's time to let them stand on their own two feet. Attend trade shows that will allow you to look at new products.

National Campaign Targets Rise In Vehicle Accidents Involving Children

Child Passenger Safety Week began September 18 with a focus on preventing fatalities for children in auto accidents. The annual campaign also concludes with National Seat Check Sept. 24. According to statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, an average of two children under 13 were killed and some 374 injured every day in 2019 while riding in cars, SUVs, pickups, and vans.

The NHTSA report revealed 38 percent of unrestrained children died in traffic crashes in 2019. The 608 total represents a five percent increase over 2018. In the pandemic year of 2020, two children under 13 were killed every day while riding in vehicles and another 278 were injured.

NHTSA works with local communities every year to sponsor Child Passenger Safety Week. National Seat Check Saturday gives parents and caregivers free instruction on correct installation and use of the appropriate car seats. Technicians help determine if children are fitted with the right seats for their ages and sizes. They also explain how parents can register to receive manufacturer notifications about recalls.

Motor vehicle crashes are a leading cause of death for children, and the latest research from NHTSA shows that 46% of car seats are misused. About half of car seats are installed incorrectly and leave children vulnerable to injury in a crash, NHTSA stated.

Dispelling Myths and Common Mistakes

- A bigger vehicle doesn't mean your child can ride unbuckled. In 2020, 53% of the children killed while riding in light trucks were unrestrained, followed closely by SUVs (46%), passenger cars (34%), and vans (34%).
- Children are safest when correctly secured in the right car seats or booster seats for their ages and sizes, regardless of vehicle type.
- One of the most common mistakes involves moving children to the next seat or position too soon. Keep children in rear-facing position as long as possible, up to the top height and weight allowed by their particular seats.
- Once children outgrow a rear-facing car seat, they are ready to travel in a forward-facing car seat with a harness and tether. The tether is critical for installing a forward-facing car seat and keeps the seat from moving forward in a crash.
- When they outgrow forward-facing car seats, children must be buckled in a booster seat until tall enough to fit in an adult seat belt properly.
- Do not relent if children ask to move from the booster seat since it makes them feel older. If your child is ready to use a seat belt, make sure it fits correctly and they are buckled properly. The safest place for children under 13 is in the rear.

IDIOPATHIC VESTIBULAR DISEASE IN CATS AND DOG

Submitted By Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

I had a different article germinating in my head until Carly, one of our three cats, did not show up for her dinner Monday evening or for her breakfast Tuesday morning. Panic set in and Bob went looking. He found her in one of our gardens under the butterfly tree. I raced outside to see her behind a rose bush not wanting to move, although she was resting in an upright position like a lion statue. I carefully navigated the thorns and grabbed her by the scruff of her neck, lifting her into my arms and Bob and I retreated to the house to examine her. I put her on my bed, she cried a bit, and her balance was off. I called Parkway and they said I could bring her right up. (Even though she is technically "Bob's" cat as he fell in love with her when she was a kitten at The Wagging Tail and insisted that we bring her home, some ten years ago, he abhors all hospitals, pet or human.)

Carly's eyes were moving rapidly left to right like a static electrical charge, her head tilting to one side. Dr. Hirsch examined her and checked her blood pressure-something that I had never witnessed before but wrote about-and declared it was perfect, and that she had a somewhat mild case of idiopathic vestibular disease. It would take from three to six days for her to stabilize. The cause could be from several undetermined origins. He gave her an antibiotic shot and told me to call with an update. I took her home and placed her in a bed in my bathroom with an available litter box and water. I did not want her to feel threatened or to wobble anywhere unknown to us. She stayed in that bed from noon Tuesday, throughout the night, and remains there now although during the night she did manage to urinate in the pan. I had never heard of this condition and did some research today on the net.

Vestibular disease affects both dogs and cats. It is something which comes on rapidly, seemingly for no reason, is not that common, although vets do see it on occasion, and it may take a few weeks to completely disappear and may never reoccur. Symptoms are most severe during the first few days and will gradually lessen. They may include *a pronounced head tilt *sagging or stumbling *nausea and vomiting *lack of coordination *continuous circling in one direction *standing with legs spread wide *unwillingness to eat or drink *loss of balance/falling over *rapid eye movement while awake *choosing to sleep on hard surfaces.

Vestibular disease originates with a disturbance to the pet's vestibular system within the brain, located deep in the inner ear adjoining the cochlea and at the lower end of the brain at the top of the spinal cord. The fluid in these areas shifts with the pet's movement and sends signals to the brain which tell the pet the position of its head relative to gravity. If something causes a change to the signals the pet loses its sense of balance. Facial drooping may also occur if there is a tumor or inflammatory disease of the inner or middle ear. The onset of vestibular disease can be due to a tumor especially in older pets but is not that common. Other causes include polyps, cysts, and cancer. Exposure to a toxin or a particular drug could also be a reason. Idiopathic means the cause is not known. Some dog breeds such as German shepherds and Dobermans are more likely to get this disease. Unless it is linked to something more serious, it is not fatal and, as mentioned previously, clears up in a matter of weeks.

I took Carly back to the hospital when she was only slightly better two weeks later. She was given another antibiotic shot and a steroid. It has now been at least another two weeks. I was advised that the only option left was to see a neurologist. Bob and I went to an Army Reunion near Scranton and out of 15 attendees, eight, including Bob and I, have Covid for the first time. So, my appointment with Carly is not until Sunday, October 9th. I'll let you know how that turns out.

Thank you for helping to keep a small business in business. Come in and see our kittens, and a couple of very adoptable adult cats. Even just to have some petting interaction with them.
