HOROSCOPE

NOVEMBER 12 - NOVEMBER 18, 2020

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)
 Avoid joint ventures and steer clear of groups that want you to contribute financial assistance. Try looking into new ways to make extra money. Use your ingenuity to manipulate things to get what you want. Someone you live with will, be impossible. Your high energy will enable you to enlist the help of those in a position to back you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)
 Try to keep to yourself; work diligently on domestic chores and responsibilities. You have been stagnating for some time now and you need a change of pace. Don't get involved in joint ventures. Insincere gestures of friendliness are likely to occur.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)
 Your determination and sheer desire to do your own thing will be successful. You will find that you can work progressively at improving yourself this week. Work quietly behind the scenes. Talk to an older family member you have helped in the past.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
 Involve yourself in group endeavors. Your emotional attitude with respect to your status and direction in society may be unrealistic. Do not get involved in joint financial ventures. Be sure to take care of any minor ailments.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)
 Make your intentions perfectly clear and find out exactly what is expected of you. Communications with loved ones may be strained. You can make excellent investments if you are in the right place at the right time. Emotional upset may prevail on the domestic scene if you have neglected your duties or your mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)
 Abrupt changes concerning your professional position are evident. You need an outlet that will help take your mind off any troubles at work. You have more than enough on your plate already. Invite friends or relatives into your home.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)
 Deception is apparent. You need to do more things that you enjoy. Hassles with female colleagues may lead to problems with your boss. You must steer clear of overindulgent individuals.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
 Try not to hesitate; act on your initial instincts. Don't be too confident that coworkers are on your side. You can sort out any differences you have in an amiable manner. Refrain from overspending on entertainment or luxury items.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
 You need some rest. Reciprocate by offering helpful hints. Someone you live with will get angry if you are neglecting your duties. Disputes on the home front may be hard to avoid.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)
 Deception is probable if you don't use discrimination. If everyone wants to do their own thing, let them. Travel will be fun and entertaining. Get the red tape and the unwanted paperwork out of the way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)
 Don't let friends convince you that you should contribute to something you don't believe in. You have to take hold of your life and make some crucial decisions. Be careful what you say. You may overspend if you travel this week; however, the trip will be one to remember.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)
 Get back to basics and reevaluate what is important in life. You will meet new and exciting people if you attend social activities or sporting events. You will have a productive day if you organize yourself well at work. Don't make large purchases or investments.

ATELIER BLB STORY

Joining the new businesses opening in downtown Wildwood, Atelier BLB, brings simple, sustainable and modern apparel and home goods to the island. Atelier BLB is a small apparel and lifestyle store, celebrating independent makers and thoughtfully-made goods. This small shop reflects the love of handmade pieces. Owner, a 3rd generation seamstress, sources stocks from across Europe and Morocco, India as well as making most of the items. When speaking about the idea behind opening Atelier BLB, owner Bianca Boicea says: "coming from a creative background myself, I was aware of the difficulties and barriers that small makers face when trying to get their work seen. Our aim was to help smaller makers who were making great products, but struggling to get their work into physical stores. We collaborate with artisans and makers specializing in traditional craftsmanship. Our makers have been selected for their compassion and dedication to their craft, their unique skill, and their attention to detail." As a result, Atelier BLB was born. After a great deal of cleaning, refurbishing, and building of interior displays, the store opened its door. With its white painted walls, pale wooden shop fittings and modern light fixtures the store has the ever appealing Scandinavian feel. The store emphasis is on sustainable, handmade, small batches and curated items.

The shop's future mission is to bring people together through workshops, events and opportunities to meet makers and local creatives. "We strongly believe in supporting other small local businesses, and shopping locally and collaborating on different events. The way that we choose to spend our money - what to buy, and what not to buy - can positively shape the future of this small local community. This is especially true this year, and it's important to consider that the presence of independents relies heavily upon the support of customers and community.

Follow them on Instagram and Facebook @atelierblb

Atelier is currently open on Saturdays from noon to 5pm. All other days please email blb.contactusa@gmail.com or dm on Instagram to schedule a private shopping experience in the showroom. 3113 Pacific Ave, Wildwood, NJ

Three Lessons From the Past to Help You Understand the 2020 Election

(NewsUSA) – Think this election season has been the craziest of all time? Think again. American elections have long been highlighted by drama, scandal and intrigue — and the surprising twists and turns of presidential campaigns have a habit of repeating themselves.

Several aspects of the 2020 election cycle have undoubtedly been unique, with a global pandemic, protests for racial justice and extremist groups threatening violence. But from the civil rights movement to the Great Recession, Americans have previously headed to the polls through war, economic downturn and social instability. As the dust settles after this election, it's worth looking back to the past for a bit of historical context.

"In this crazy year, the best way to figure out what will happen to the country after everything settles down again is to understand our history," says Carlos Watson, Emmy-winning journalist, entrepreneur, political commentator, CEO of OZY and host of The Campaigns That Made History, a two-hour documentary that recently aired on HISTORY, covering the most surprising and shocking political contests of the past. For fans who have been following the burgeoning partnership between OZY, which seems to be the definition of media's omni-channel future, and A+E Networks, which owns networks including HISTORY and Lifetime, the documentary was a rare treat that meets the moment, allowing viewers to jump several steps ahead of the curve this election cycle.

"This isn't the first crazy election we've had — there have been five of these whoppers just over the past 60 years," said Watson, who has become one of the preeminent new media figures helping the public make sense of this moment in history — perhaps the next Doris Kearns Goodwin. Here are a few lessons from just three of those "whoppers" to help you contextualize the most recent election.

1. Anti-establishment candidates aren't just a 21st century problem. When Ronald Reagan, a former football player and charismatic actor, challenged President Gerald Ford in 1976, he wasn't afraid of abandoning boring political-speak. "Balancing the budget," as he quipped to Johnny Carson on The Tonight Show, "is like protecting your virtue: You have to learn how to say 'no.'" The California governor came tantalizingly close to defeating the sitting president. And while Reagan lost, Ford urged him to address the Republican National Convention anyway, assuming he would embarrass himself without a teleprompter. That was a mistake: Reagan delivered a stirring speech, putting him on the path to the presidency four years later.

2. How a contested election could play out "Florida, Florida, Florida." NBC's Tim Russert's election night mantra in 2000 would play out over weeks as the election outcome hung in the balance, and lawyers and activists descended on Florida for a disputed recount. In the end, the U.S. Supreme Court's 5-4 decision in Bush v. Gore overruled the state of Florida, halting a recount and giving Bush the win more than a month after Election Day.

3. The Proud Boys of 1968. A tumultuous year marked by racial unrest and assassinations of leaders Martin Luther King Jr. and presidential front-runner Robert F. Kennedy ended up with Republican Richard Nixon topping Democrat Hubert Humphrey. But segregationist George Wallace's third-party campaign, representing Southerners who had ditched the pro-civil-rights Democratic Party, was a shock to the system and a sign of things to come. "In 1968, the equivalent of the Proud Boys wasn't just some crazy group on the edge — they were on the ballot, got 10 million votes and won five states," says Watson.

CHEF CHIP'S WILD GAME AND SEAFOOD RECIPE

GRILLED QUAIL W ORANGE GLAZE

INGREDIENTS:

- 6 SEMI-BONELESS QUAIL
- 1 TBS EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL
- 1 TBS FRESH CHOPPED ROSEMARY
- 2 TBS ORANGE JUICE
- 1 TBS ORANGE ZEST
- 1 TBS MOLASSES
- 1 TBS MAPLE SYRUP
- 1 TBS HONEY
- KOSHER SALT & FRESH CRACKED BLACK PEPPER TO TASTE

PREPARATION:

PREHEAT GRILL TO MEDIUM HIGH HEAT. IN A BOWL, WHISK TOGETHER ORANGE JUICE, ORANGE ZEST, MOLASSES, SYRUP, & HONEY. SET BOWL ASIDE. BRUSH THE QUAIL WITH OIL. SEASON WITH SALT, PEPPER, & SPRINKLE ROSEMARY. GRILL THE QUAIL, BREAST-SIDE FIRST. FLIP THE BIRDS OVER WHEN YOU HAVE ACHIEVED NICE GRILL MARKS. BRUSH THE QUAIL WITH THE GLAZE. COVER WITH THE LID, & ALLOW TO FINISH COOKING THROUGH. ALLOW TO REST FOR 5 MINUTES BEFORE SERVING. ENJOY!

HINT:

THIS IS GREAT OVER ANY BED OF GREENS, OR WITH A NICE COUS COUS. I HOPE ALL OF OUR VETERANS HAD A GREAT VETERAN'S DAY! THANK YOU EVERY DAY!

Save the St. Ann's Rectory, Wildwood NJ

A campaign by Preserving the Wildwoods, a Partners in Preservation committee

We need your help to preserve this Historic Victorian at Pacific and Glenwood Avenues!

- The only Stick Style building in Wildwood is under threat
- Built in 1909 by Christopher J. Scully for St. Ann's Catholic Church
- Beautifully preserved and well maintained, it housed clergy for over 100 yrs
- Featured in 2018 book, "Wildwoods Houses Through Time" by Taylor Henry
- But now, the church is no longer able to afford the property so they're selling
- Flyers around the property announce pre-demolition sales

The closest other examples of Stick Style are landmarks: Hereford Inlet Lighthouse in North Wildwood and the Emlen Physick Estate in Cape May. Preserving the Wildwoods has submitted a nomination for the NJ and National Registers of Historic Places. We are willing to apply for grants to fund restoration work.

We ask that the liquidation sales are contents only, not anything with structural or architectural integrity. We also plan to work with the new owner to preserve the rectory and give it new, profitable life through adaptive reuse.

Follow us on facebook.com/preservingthewildwoods for updates and email us at preservingthewildwoods@gmail.com to get involved with the cause. Thank you!

DON'T LET YOUR CAR GOBBLE UP YOUR HARD-EARNED MONEY

While you're busy preparing for another holiday season, don't let car care take a back seat. Neglected auto care almost always means much higher costs down the road in the form of more extensive repairs or lost resale value. The non-profit Car Care Council recommends that you be car care aware to ensure your car doesn't gobble up your hard-earned money.

"If you're like most people, you're busier than ever this time of year and may find yourself putting off vehicle maintenance," said Rich White, executive director, Car Care Council. "It's important to remember that routine auto care means big savings by improving fuel economy, extending vehicle life and reducing the chance of costly car trouble." The Car Care Council suggests a quick vehicle check to help avoid the unplanned expense of a breakdown when traveling by car this holiday season.

- Check the tires, including tire pressure and tread. Uneven wear indicates a need for wheel alignment. Tires should also be checked for bulges and bald spots.
- Check all fluids, including engine oil, power steering and brake and transmission, as well as windshield washer solvent and antifreeze/coolant.
- Check the hoses and belts that can become cracked, brittle, frayed, loose or show signs of excessive wear. These are critical to the proper functioning of the electrical system, air conditioning, power steering and the cooling system.
- Check lighting to identify any problems with exterior and interior lighting, as the chance of an accident increases if you can't see or be seen.
- Check wipers. Wiper blades should be replaced every six months. Make sure the windshield wipers are working properly and keep the reservoir filled with solvent.

The Car Care Council also recommends that motorists restock their emergency kit. To save on fuel costs during the trip, the council suggests that motorists avoid aggressive driving, observe the speed limit and avoid excessive idling. Gas caps that are damaged, loose or missing should be replaced to prevent gas from spilling or evaporating.

DOES YOUR DOG SUFFER FROM YEAST INFECTIONS?

Submitted By Patsy Nelson

I thought this article would be worth repeating for anyone that missed it. As I mentioned in a previous article, yeast problems can be a chronic situation mostly affecting the ears but it can also affect other areas. Most of what will be presented here is based on an article by Dr. Karen Becker and Healthy Pets.

"The typical normal, healthy flora of dogs is a naturally occurring staph, as well as a light layer of naturally occurring yeast." If a dog or human being have a balanced immune system, the yeast does not pose any problems. If the immune system is under-active, yeast becomes more prominent. If the immune system is overactive, allergies result which can also lead to an overabundance of yeast. Dogs that are immune-suppressed can end up with serious yeast infections too. The usual medical response is to put your dog on steroids to help reduce the symptoms, but that does not address the underlying cause and can have its own subsequent undesirable affects. I am not personally a fan of steroids. If your dog's immune system is deactivated with drugs, yeast blooms can occur. If the prescribed medical defense are antibiotics, then good as well as bad bacteria is destroyed which can make yeast problems worse. (Women taking antibiotics are often guided to replenish the good bacteria needed to ward off yeast infections.) A dog with allergies can even develop an allergy to his yeast. "Intradermal tests often reveal that a dog is having an allergic response to his own natural flora." A dog suffering from acute allergies can be red and irritated all over his body. "Definitive diagnosis by a vet of a yeast infection is accomplished either by cytology (looking at a skin swab under a microscope) or by culturing (submitting a sterile swab of the skin to the lab where the cells are grown and identified on a petri dish). Most owners will be able to ascertain that their dog has a yeast problem due to the pungent, unpleasant odor. Healthy dogs do not have a "doggy odor." If you detect a musty smell on your dog's paws or ears or other areas of her body, you are mostly like witnessing a yeast overgrowth. Yeast overgrowth is extremely itchy, so if your dog is scratching excessively, licking her paws relentlessly, and possibly scooting on her behind, (and you have ruled out fleas and impacted anal glands) you must address her issues as an abundance of yeast. I think that Zoey is having a paw yeast problem.

According to the experts, dogs with an overabundance of yeast, need to be put on an anti-yeast diet. "An anti-yeast diet is also an anti-inflammatory and species-appropriate diet." Yeast thrive on sugar, and carbohydrates which break down into sugar. Some foods and treats for pets may blatantly admit to added sugar. But honey can be energy for yeast, as well as high fructose corn syrup and white potatoes and sweet potatoes. If possible, avoid corn, wheat, and rice. This article does not mention peas. Some sites do. Dr. Becker suggests adding a small amount of garlic or oregano to the diet as these have anti-fungal and anti-yeast properties.

Dr. Becker warns against continuing to add salves or ointments to affected areas, without removing the build-up of layers of dead yeast, and disinfecting the area. Just piling on more ointment can make matters worse. Dogs that have constant ear problems will need to have them disinfected (and dried) several times a week, if not every day. The amount of cleaning depends on the build-up of debris. Yeasty paws are due to the yeast embedded between the foot pads and under the nail beds. Especially if there is an abundance of humidity, as in summer months. Yeast can affect the armpits, groin, vulva and anus. All these areas need to be disinfected. Make a foot soak of "a gallon of water, a cup of hydrogen peroxide, and 1-4 cups of white vinegar." Do not rinse. Then pat the paws dry. Leaving the solution to dry on the pet will speed healing and decrease licking. Use an anti-fungal shampoo, as often as you deem necessary, on the entire dog's body, if the yeast is plentiful. Do not use oatmeal-based shampoos, as oatmeal is a grain that encourages yeast. Tea-tree or herbal shampoos are safe. A rinse of a gallon of water with a cup of vinegar (especially on black dogs) or lemon juice with 20 drops of peppermint essential oil, (do not rinse off) will leave your pet feeling and smelling good. Never pour these rinses near the face or eyes, just dampen around with a cotton ball. Yeast problems can be seasonal. If your dog suffers year-round, consult your vet about your pet's immune system.

Thank you to those who support us beyond the monthly bag of cat or dog food. That will not sustain us. We want to remain a help to the community and the pets you love, but it is an uphill battle. We special order and we can deliver.
