HOROSCOPE

OCTOBER 8-14, 2026

ARIES (March 21 – April 20): A busy week brings opportunities to turn ideas into action. Trust your first instinct and don't let minor delays slow you down. Something that happens toward the weekend could give you an unexpected advantage.

TAURUS (April 21 – May 21): Your steady approach pays off as something you've been waiting on finally begins moving forward. Keep expectations realistic and enjoy the progress. A spontaneous plan this weekend could be more fun than you expect.

GEMINI (May 22 – June 21): Your social side takes center stage this week, bringing lively conversations and interesting new connections. Say what's on your mind and keep your plans flexible. An unexpected invitation could quickly change your weekend.

CANCER (June 22 – July 22): A little breathing room helps you see a situation more clearly this week. Don't rush an important decision simply because someone else wants an answer. By the weekend, you'll feel more confident about your next move.

LEO (July 23 – August 22): Confidence comes naturally this week, and others are likely to notice. Use that energy to make a bold move, start a conversation or pursue something you want. A little extra attention may come from an unexpected direction.

VIRGO (August 23 – September 23): Taking care of unfinished business early in the week frees you up for better things later. Stay focused without becoming too rigid about your plans. An unexpected change could actually work out better than the original idea.

LIBRA (September 24 – October 23): You're in your element this week, and your natural charm makes it easier to attract the right people and opportunities. Make time for something you genuinely enjoy. A promising connection could become increasingly interesting.

SCORPIO (October 24 – November 22): Your instincts are sharp, especially when it comes to reading people and situations. Keep your plans close until you're ready to make your move. Something revealed later in the week could work strongly in your favor.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 – December 21): The urge to shake things up is strong this week. Try something different, accept a spontaneous invitation or explore somewhere new. A change in routine could introduce you to a person or opportunity worth remembering.

CAPRICORN (December 22 – January 20): Progress comes quickly once you decide where your attention belongs. Handle the biggest priority first and avoid getting pulled into unnecessary distractions. By the weekend, you'll have earned some time to enjoy yourself.

AQUARIUS (January 21 – February 19): An unusual idea may turn out to be exactly what you need. Give yourself permission to experiment rather than following the expected path. A conversation with someone different from you could spark an exciting possibility.

PISCES (February 20 – March 20): Your intuition helps you recognize where your energy is best spent this week. Follow what feels genuine and step away from anything unnecessarily draining. A warm conversation or relaxing weekend plan could leave you feeling recharged.

BIG VET MAY BE WHY YOUR PET VISIT TO THE VET MAY BE SO EXPENSIVE

Submitted By Patsy Nelson
formerly of The Wagging Tail

(I have a correction to make on my last article: Ocean View Veterinary Hospital on Route 9 in Cape May County, IS CORPORATE OWNED. I must have looked at older information.)

Big corporations like Mars Candy Company and smaller private equity funds, have been noting for a while a trend in family pet messaging. We are becoming increasingly a society that views our pets as family members and are willing to go to sometimes extreme methods and certainly extreme expenditures to keep them with us for as long as possible; sometimes to the detriment of a pet's quality of life. As I discussed in my last article, our cat Carly had a recent visit to the vet. She was acting lethargic and hardly eating for 3 days. Her blood work was normal. Next step would be x-rays. Logically, for what? If she had a tumor, would I put her (being at least 13 years of age) through an operation and possible chemo? No. I don't even think I could do insulin shots anymore as I treated my cat Bonnie for three years and she lived to be nineteen. I also had a cat to live to be 24, but a few months after removing a small tumor, she died.

According to a recent Reader's Digest article on Big Vet, even some of our local veterinary hospitals are under the auspices of a multinational shop that views caring for our pet children "as a health component of a diversified revenue stream." A whopping 25%-30% of United States practices are under a corporate umbrella compared to only 8% ten years ago. For specialty clinics 3 out 4 are corporately owned. In March of 2024, while inflation had gotten under control, "the Consumer Price Index for urban consumers was up 3.5% year over year. The veterinary services category was up 9.6%." The same thing happens when corporations take over a hospital or private practice, "prices and the number of expensive procedures tend to go up." Medicare can help regulate prices to some degree, but in veterinary medicine there is no such entity. Customers of vet hospitals usually notice a change in charges, staff, and in "pushing" for tests or inoculations that are not truly necessary, even though the name of the hospital (intentionally) remains the same. In corporate owned practices, veterinarians have been cited as being pressured to generate more revenue. Before you pay one of our corporate owned pet hospitals for anything costly, from teeth cleaning to operations, you should call one of the privately owned locations in the same geographic location and compare prices. Many pets do fall victim to "economic euthanasia" because of potentially high care costs.

Aware of the possibility of corporations monopolizing their grip on veterinarian practices, The Federal Trade Commission, because of public outcry, has set a limit on how many of the same service facilities can be acquired within a certain mile radius nationwide by like-corporations. The FTC also reviews major mergers case-by-case under anti-trust laws. Currently 18 U.S. states legally require veterinary practices to be OWNED exclusively by licensed veterinarians. In many states, like New Jersey, Big Vet has successfully exercised manipulation of this law.

Articles are also on my Facebook page, Patricia Robinson Nelson. I would love your comments. Email me at patsyrob1@gmail.com with concerns. THANK YOU!

NATIONAL FARMER'S DAY

On October 12th, we celebrate the incredible people behind the golden bounty of the harvest on National Farmer's Day. It's a day to give a much-deserved salute to the men, women, and families who are the backbone of our nation and the stewards of our land. Set perfectly in the midst of harvest season, this is our chance to recognize the relentless hard work that puts food on our tables and keeps our country running.

This restaurant deserves five stars all around! The service was great. The atmosphere is quaint. But the food is definitely spot on. Everything from the appetizers right through to the dessert was amazing. No complaints had by anyone at the dinner table, and we went with a big group. I would definitely recommend if you're looking for a more luxurious meal.

CHEF CHIP'S
WILD GAME AND SEAFOOD RECIPE
ROASTED VENISON LOIN WRAPPED IN BACON

INGREDIENTS:
- 1 Venison Loin Trimmed of Silver Skin
- 12 Pieces Applewood Smoked Bacon (Thin Cut)
- 1 TBS. Fresh Chopped Thyme
- 1 TBS. Fresh Chopped Rosemary
- Kosher Salt & Fresh Cracked Black Pepper To Taste

PREPARATION:
Preheat oven to 375°. Place a piece of parchment paper the size of a sheet pan on the counter. Lay the bacon strips out next to one another with the ends running width wise on the paper. Gently tap the bacon with the flat side of a meat mallet. Next, Spread the herbs all over the bacon. Season the loin & place it on the middle of the bacon with the ends pointing lengthwise to the paper. Overlap the bacon ends onto the loin. Flip the loin over onto a cooking rack lined with a sheet pan. Discard the parchment paper. Now you have a nice smooth side bacon on the top & the seam on the bottom. Bake until you reach a medium rare center (130°-135°). Remove from the oven & cover loosely with foil for at least 5 minutes before slicing. Plate, serve & Enjoy!

Hint: I like to serve this with a nice horseradish or peppercorn sauce.* Archery Deer Season is on! Venison is now available in God's Grocery Store.

THE ROAD AHEAD: PREPARING YOUR VEHICLE FOR SHORTER DAYS, LONGER NIGHTS, PT 1

The October Vehicle and Visibility Performance Guide

1. Check windshield for chips and cracks

Gravel kicked up by passing vehicles, loose stones in construction zones and road debris are common causes of windshield damage during summer travel.

As temperatures begin to cool, the glass expands and contracts, allowing small chips to grow into larger cracks that eventually require a full replacement.

Inspect your windshield from both the inside and outside. If you notice a chip, even if it's smaller than a coin, have it professionally evaluated and repaired.

2. Replace windshield wipers and replenish windshield cleaning fluid

Intense summer sun hardens and cracks windshield wiper blades. Eliminate smears and streaks this fall by changing out your vehicle's wiper blades–including back blades for SUVs.

Ask your service advisor about the right blades for your upcoming travels. The choices are many and can dramatically affect performance.

Winter blades are designed for freezing temperatures. Some winter blades include an extra layer of protection against snow. Silicone blades provide better wear and surface sweep than their rubber counterparts. For rainy areas, consider blades with a hydrophobic coating to repel water.

3. Perform a visual check on all exterior lights

Are your taillights and headlights in good working order? Are the beams pointed in the right direction or do they look cock-eyed?

Do a vehicle walk-around and make sure all your headlights, sidelights and brake lights are working properly. Also, look for cracks in the light housings where moisture can get in and fog the lenses.

4. Check your vehicle's alignment

Vehicle alignment can shift after months of summer driving without obvious warning signs. Left uncorrected, misalignment drags your vehicle's tires against the pavement and places extra stress on your suspension and system.

Professional inspection measures wheel angles and identifies minor alignment problems before they lead to premature tire wear.

Expert tip: Stand a few feet behind your vehicle and compare the tread across each front tire. Look for uneven tread wear, especially on the outer edges of the tire.

5. Inspect belts and hoses for heat damage

Prolonged exposure to high engine temperatures and hot road surfaces causes drive belts and coolant hoses to dry out, harden and deteriorate.

Worn drive belts may develop cracks or frayed edges, while deteriorating coolant hoses can develop soft spots, surface cracks or bulges near clamps.

If your vehicle has logged plenty of summer miles, have a qualified technician inspect drive belts and hoses and replace any components that show signs of wear.
