HOROSCOPE

MARCH 21 - MARCH 27, 2024

ARIES (Mar. 21- April 20)

The shimmering connection between the Sun and Neptune this weekend can either make you feel you're in the bliss zone or chasing a mirage. Yet Spring Equinox on the 20th brings the Sun to Aries and your time to shine begins. Important decisions can be made on the 21st when you're feeling empowered and super-clear. Ready for the upcoming lunar eclipse on the 25th to shake things down in a relationship.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

It's hard to know what to make of your place in the grand scheme of things when the Sun and Neptune are creating multiple variations. In a way you want to 'go private' and exist in your own bubble whilst summoning the energy to confront others with a reality check. The approaching eclipsed Full Moon on the 25th is already activating the need to carve out lifestyle choices for yourself.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

If you've grown rather tired of pandering to other people's whims the time has come to lay down the bottom line. As eclipse season approaches the old is giving way to the new and you're looking to make the most of your natural talents and create more joy. Short term this looks like having to say no, in order to carve out more space.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

If things are currently feeling adrift, put it down to Neptune's watery influence where nothing seems clear-cut. However all is set to change with Spring Equinox ushering in eclipse season and a no-nonsense union between Venus and Saturn which sorts out exactly what is and isn't possible. You'll be glad to receive these celestial instructions and make your move.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

You're coming out of the chaos into a period which offers commitment and clarity. Especially regarding financial decisions which are the sensible choice. As the Sun moves into Aries at Spring Equinox you feel ready to strategise long term plans which involve movement, messaging and an increased sense of adventure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Pisces season has thrown a lot of Neptunian energy into the mix which clouds and mists the level of organisation you normally enjoy. However, you're ready to sort things out and come up with a plan. Besides, Spring Equinox takes you into financial territory which requires a joint approach with an organisation, bank or individual.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

As the peace-keeper and people pleaser you often get lost in other people's demands. However, the upcoming lunar eclipse in your own sign on the 25th is already starting to make its mark as you become increasingly aware of what you need to do for YOU. Certain practical matters set the stage for your decision making process. These anchor you in reality and all you have to do is follow through.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

There's a stark contrast between the things you feel you can control and those you can't. Separating the two is vital as you can. make important headway this week if you stay clear-eyed and grounded. The Sun and Pluto empower you to up level how you work or live your life, transforming the quality of your everyday experience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

It's more important than ever to pay attention to the essentials in life rather than allowing fantasy to take hold. Venus and Saturn urge you to be realistic and even adopt a less is more approach. Securing your position and stabilising yourself at ground level is necessary this week. From here you can grow from a solid foundation and with Spring energy bursting forth it could happen sooner than you think.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

Your pragmatic approach will be to the fore as so much misinformation and uncertainty abound. As Aries season kickstarts Spring on Wednesday followed by a strategic meeting between Venus and Saturn everyone will value your clear-eyed approach. Certain ground rules need to be established and a plan of action formulated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

Timing is everything and with Venus about to meet with the time-keeper Saturn you need to approach certain matters head-on. Decisions need to be made which will cut a swathe through fantasies and fiction, enabling you to plan a clear path ahead. Especially financially. As eclipse season approaches new shoots of growth will become visible.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

The contrast between Neptune and Saturn in your sign is bound to make itself felt this week as you wake up from a limbo land into something very real, tangible and present. As a Pisces you will always have a little bit of drift in you, but right now it's about attending to that which needs to be done and seeing it clearly for what it is. A reality check releases you from inertia.

From the roof to the basement is nothing less than perfection. The entrance is enchanting with a large foyer and sweeping horseshoe stairs, a large family room, booklined study, formal dining room with wainscoting, recessed lighting around the ceiling and lovely artwork. A gourmet kitchen with custom cabinets, Sub Zero and Wolf Pro appliances, dining area overlooking the patio, at the top of the stairs is a sun filled room, featuring large windows for views, gas fireplace and the ambience for peace and quiet. Each bedroom is en suite with the Master bedroom having cathedral ceilings, his/her walk in closets, a soaking tub, fireplace and glass enclosed shower. If you like to entertain, the lower level is the place to be with a bar area, cafe with booths, billiard table, card table and your own theater and a Sauna. The backyard is spacious and private with a large deck and patio area as well as a small fountain. Located steps away from the Union League National Golf Course. All furnishings are negotiable. MARCH 28 we will be having a PIN-CHOFONGO DAY at EG's FrituLandia located at 2802 New Jersey Ave in Wildwood. Every sale of the day is going to be donated to Mara Rivera.

STARGAZING AT NATIONAL PARKS: STELLAR SHOWS LIGHT UP THE NIGHT

Big Cypress National Preserve, Ochopee, FL - Water isn't the only part of the swamp that's dark—the night sky above the Florida Everglades can be pretty inky as well. Located in Florida's famous marshlands, Big Cypress National Preserve is specifically geared toward stargazers. Designated by the International Dark-Sky Association as an International Dark-Sky Place, the south Florida hideaway is far from bright city lights and other visual pollutants. The preserve needed to retrofit its lighting systems to achieve the prestigious designation, and Big Cypress joins Kissimmee Prairie Preserve State Park as International Dark Sky Places in Florida. You don't need a telescope to marvel at the Milky Way and other sky features visible with the naked eye.

Bryce Canyon National Park: Bryce Canyon, UT - Located in Utah's southwest corner, Bryce Canyon National Park remains a destination for stargazers across North America. Park rangers and volunteer astronomers host classes and seminars in a place that sees roughly 7,500 stars on a moonless night. A popular attraction is the Night Sky Program, which features multimedia shows and stargazing with telescopes.

Voyageurs National Park, MN - Experience the northern lights and stargaze amid stunning lakes, shores and islands crusted over in natural ice sculptures. Viewing the Aurora Borealis is a popular winter activity in this little-visited park, sheltered from Lake Superior. For the cold season, the site lists resources of private snowmobile tours, winter sports gear suppliers and guides for day trekking. If you wish to get away from the scenic roadways to enjoy this astoundingly beautiful park, trails abound for novice to expert hiking, cross-country skiing, and snowshoeing. The website has guides for viewing the northern lights, specific trail updates and featured seasonal activities.

Death Valley, Eastern CA/NV - Explore sparkling, snow-dusted dunes and vivid geologic colors towering over many walking trails. Famed among off-roaders, the park has routes accessible in the bracing cold of winter. For stargazers, sundown offers an entirely new experience for visitors. There is no closing time at Death Valley; hiking trails are open, and stargazing is a popular pastime. From the park, you can follow Highway 190 west from the lowest point in the US to a view of Mt. Whitney, the highest mountain in the lower 48 states.

Joshua Tree National Park: Joshua Tree, CA - This is a destination for stargazers all year long, especially on winter solstice. Stand among the sand dunes and stare at the celestial symphony.

Rocky Mountain National Park: Estes Park, CO - Rocky Mountain isn't an official International Dark Sky Park like the Western Slope's Black Canyon National Park, but the more than 12,000-foot elevation offers idyllic conditions for stargazing.

Mt. Rainier National Park: Paradise, WA - Close to the Seattle metroplex, Mt. Rainer is the largest active volcano in the continental US and a world away from the bright light of the city. Spend the daylight hours skiing, snowboarding, snowshoeing and more in the park that receives more than 54 feet of snowfall every year. Besides vivid bursts of wildflowers in spring, the park is famous for night sky viewing. The Sunrise area of the park has very little light pollution and is frequently visited by star photographers and serious astronomers. Enthusiasts are friendly and can offer tips and help. The park does not permit overnight camping in a vehicle, so dress warmly and check the weather before beginning your stellar adventure!

Big Bend National Park, TX - Listed as a "gold tier destination" and one of the top seven sites in the world for stargazing by the International Dark Sky Association, this giant park boasts thousands of stars visible per night. The park has wonderful hikes for day trips, hot springs to visit and abundant wildlife on show. Camping is available year-round in the park; for astronomy enthusiasts who like lots of comfort, some local hotels provide a telescope for guests.

THE FIGHT BEGINS

Submitted by Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

Spring is here. My favorite time of the year. Soon flowers & trees will be in glorious color or showing their potential blossoms. The bees, flies, ants, beetles, fleas, & ticks are in happy release from the relatively warm winter we had again this year. Which is why fleas & ticks, our pets' enemies are going to be in full abundance. Already customers are coming in complaining about ticks.

I suggest that the first thing you do is get a container of yard spray that does up to 5,000 SF., that attaches to the nozzle of your hose, and takes little effort on your part to shower, especially the perimeters of your yard. There are all-natural ones that use essential oils (like clover, lemon grass, cedar, among others). The ones we recommend are by Vet Best, Tropiclean, & Natural Chemistry. These products kill fleas & ticks, and Vet Best also kills and repels mosquitoes. There are stronger products like Adams Plus & Zodiac, which use synthetic chemicals and are not natural so more care concerning pets, birds, & fish is necessary. Caution must be used to not spray on blooms where bees are actively visiting, and not when it's windy. The best time would be very early in the morning or at dusk. But the Adams, for example, kills fleas, ticks, mosquitoes, ants, and crickets, as well as bagworms, aphids, spider mites, gnats, beetles, moles, and other insects that attack our plants, and of course - fleas & ticks, including the Deer Tick which carries Lyme Disease. Most of these products will be effective for 4 weeks. It may be necessary to reapply them monthly for best results. Do apply when you are certain it will not rain for at least 24-hours.

Since it's been a warm winter, I have been applying topical flea products on my dogs & cats non-stop and now will start with flea & tick topicals, plus Heartguard. I don't advise oral pest control because of the dangers of reactions while in the bloodstream. At least with topicals, they only penetrate the dermal oils & can be washed off if necessary. (With dogs like Ebby, oral may be the only way).

You should inspect your pets before, or as they enter your home, if they have been wandering in your yard, or have been taken for a walk where ticks can be lying in wait for the vibration of your pet. Run your hands lightly over your entire pet, and even use a flea comb which will snare the critters before they penetrate the skin. Check armpits and their inner thigh areas too.

Constant vacuuming of all areas of the house, sofas, between cushions, baseboards, closets, will help in controlling fleas. Make sure to empty the vacuum each time (outside in a bag). Spraying a reputable flea & tick spray will get under and behind things and will help wipe out flea populations. If using a fogger becomes necessary, by spraying first, you have increased the effects of fogging by 30-40%. And fog your crawl space too! We have free pamphlets which will help guide you to a safer pet environment.

Thank you for helping a small business stay in business.
