Release the week of February 23 - 29, 2024

HOROSCOPE

FEBRUARY 22 - FEBRUARY 28, 2024

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

You will be slowing down and finding moments for inner reflection this week, Aries, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You may have heavier emotions come up, or you could be releasing any mindsets that are holding you back. You might also be taking an interest in having a regular spiritual practice, like journaling or meditation. With the full moon in Virgo, you will be wrapping up projects at work and crossing tasks off of your to-do list. You may feel called to take better care of your body too through exercise and eating healthy.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

Your social life will pick up this week, Taurus, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You may have commitments to others that you need to attend, or you could be the one bringing people together for a group activity. You may also be catching up with friends you haven't seen in a while. With the full moon in Virgo, you will be balancing social activities with time spent on your own hobbies. You may realise how you can inject your personality into a passion project, as well as how you can have more confidence in your unique talents.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Work will be busier this week, Gemini, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You could get handed new responsibilities, or you're receiving recognition for your work. You might also be reflecting on your career goals, as you consider what projects and opportunities are worth committing to. With the full moon in Virgo, you may be connecting with family or leaving your home to go somewhere. On the other hand, you may want to stay in and make time to clean and organise your living space. You could be emotional about family dynamics or past memories though.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

You will be thinking of the bigger picture this week, Cancer, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be furthering your education by reading more books or enrolling in a class. You could also have inspiration to write or teach. You might be travelling or coming into contact with people from different cultural backgrounds too. With the full moon in Virgo, you may realise how you can communicate your ideas more effectively with people, or you may be preparing to launch a writing or speaking-related project. In addition, you may be attending cultural offerings and events.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

You will be interested in self improvement this week, Leo, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You could be turning to therapy, psychology books, or other forms of healing to better understand why you are the way you are. You may also be making an effort to save or invest money for your future, or you're paying off debt. With the full moon in Virgo, you may be spending quite a bit as well, and you could be treating yourself to shopping or nice experiences. In addition, you may be preparing to launch a project at work.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

You will be focused on your close relationships this week, Virgo, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be putting yourself out there with dating, or you could feel closer to your current partner. You may also be making an effort to see good friends frequently. With the full moon in your sign, you will be realising how you can prioritise your own goals as well, and you may be rediscovering interests you never knew you had. You might be met with significant new opportunities too, or other people are paying you greater attention.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

You will be getting into the swing of a regular routine this week, Libra, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be juggling numerous small tasks at work, or you could be met with new job opportunities. You will also be making an effort to take better care of your body and overall health. With the full moon in Virgo, you will still need to be mindful of resting. You could feel called to slow down, or emotions may come up that you want to address. You could be exploring your sense of spirituality too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You will be having fun and mingling with people this week, Scorpio, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You may have extra time for social activities or dating, or you could be leaning into hobbies that bring you joy. In addition, you might feel called to express more of yourself through your work or a passion project. With the full moon in Virgo, you could be organising a group activity, or you may be met with a positive opportunity that is related to your long term hopes and dreams for the future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

You will be tending to home and family related activities this week, Sagittarius, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be visiting family, or you could be preparing to move or decorate your living space. You may also be reminiscing on the past or reflecting on family dynamics. With the full moon in Virgo, you may see career developments take place. You could be busier at work or even preparing to launch a big project. You could be thinking about your long term career goals too, or you may be preparing to start a new role.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)

You will be picking up new skills and learning useful information this week, Capricorn, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be developing communication based work, like a presentation, podcast, newsletter, or online content, and you may want to attend cultural offerings around your city. With the full moon in Virgo, you could be preparing to travel, or you may feel called to sign up for a workshop or research a particular subject. You may feel more connected to your spirituality too, and you may want to deepen your knowledge of other cultures and life beliefs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

You will feel motivated at work this week, Aquarius, as the sun and Mercury move into Pisces. You might be developing new projects, asserting your own ideas, or taking on freelance gigs. You could also be splurging on yourself or paying off various expenses. With the full moon in Virgo, you may be addressing any relationship conflict that is coming up, or you could be looking to improve upon your own reactions and behaviours. You could also be learning how to open up and be more emotionally vulnerable with people, or you may be putting money towards savings.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

You will be focused on your own goals this week, Pisces, as the sun and Mercury move into your sign. You may have noticeably more energy, and you could be met with new opportunities, either at work or in your personal life. You may also be comfortable spending more time alone, tending to self care routines. With the full moon in Virgo, you will still want to be mindful of your close relationships. You may be reflecting on where you stand with someone you're dating or a good friend, or you could simply feel more connected to people.

tiful Cape May Point! Cross-bills, siskins, redpolls – oh, my! Winter can be such a special time to bird Cape May Point. Each week we'll scour the Park or wander the streets to see what avian visitors are calling Cape May Point their winter home. The winter finch prediction sounds promising, the ponds are full of ducks, and loons and scoters are on the move. Our path may take us through the quiet streets of Cape May Point, visiting local feeders. Or maybe we'll travel along the dunes to check the morning flight line. Lily Lake and the Northwood Center often hold wintering songbirds and, of course, the State Park is always good. So let us add some joy to your winter – join us every Saturday for 2 hours of birding around Cape May Point. PREREGISTRATION REQUIRED. NATIONAL MARGARITA DAY National Margarita Day on February 22nd rims a glass with salt and serves up a beverage that tastes like the summer sun. Known to be the most common tequila-based cocktail served in the United States, the margarita is a cocktail that consists of tequila, triple sec, and lime or lemon juice. A key ingredient is the freshly squeezed lime juice. When it comes to sorting out the legends associated with the origin of the margarita, there are many. Two things are certain; the cocktail included tequila, and the bartender edged the rim of the glass with salt. In Mexico, when drinking straight tequila (especially if the quality was bad), the best course of action was to down it in one swallow, suck on a wedge of lime, and lick a dash of salt off the back of your hand. It makes sense that the salt followed the lime and the tequila to the margarita glass.

CHEF CHIP'S WILD GAME AND SEAFOOD RECIPE

CHERRY MAPLE VENISON JERKY

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 LBS 1/8" SLICED (AGAINST THE GRAIN) VENISON
- 1/2 CUP MAPLE SYRUP
- 3/4 CUP CHERRY PIE FILLING
- 2 TBS WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE
- 2 TBS LOW SODIUM SOY SAUCE
- 1/2 TSP DRIED GROUND GINGER
- 1 TSP ONION POWDER
- 1/2 TSP GARLIC POWDER
- FRESH CRACKED BLACK PEPPER TO TASTE
- CHERRY WOOD FOR SMOKING

PREPARATION:

Place all ingredients except venison into a food processor or blender. Pulse until mixture is smooth. Put sliced meat into a large Ziploc bag. Pour marinade over the top. Seal the bag & mix everything from the outside of the bag. Be sure to get the air out & marinate for 48 hours. After 48 hours, prepare smoker w/ cherry wood at 180°. Remove meat from marinade. Pat meat dry w/ a towel. Arrange meat strips flat on a cooking rack. Smoke until the meat bends but doesn't break. It will crack slightly. Enjoy!

Hint: This recipe works great w/ beef as well. If you don't have a smoker, you can put a 1/2 tsp of liquid smoke in the marinade.

WINTER FLOOR MATS: ESSENTIAL SAFETY GEAR FOR YOUR VEHICLE

Rubber mats keep moisture out of your carpeted areas while at the same time protecting the people riding in the vehicle from perhaps getting sick from allergies. Winter allergies can be triggered by several things, including mold spores and mildew, which can live in damp and dirty carpet.

Using Rubber Mats In Your Vehicle

- Make sure the rubber mats are custom fitted to your vehicle. If the mat is designed specifically for your make, model, and year it provides maximum protection.
- Rubber Mats should also have channels—ridges and grooves—that trap the rain and muck before it gets into the carpet.
- Get mats with retention snaps, also known as anchors, which connect to your vehicle floor tethers (found on newer vehicles) and prevent the mat from sliding under your feet. Some mats use cleats that grip the carpet, so they don't slide around while you are driving.
- Use grippy, rubber mats that help keep driver and passenger shoes from slipping. Vinyl mats are easy to clean but may not offer the same traction.
- Look for mats that have a warranty from the manufacturer which will give you peace of mind when purchasing them.
- Aesthetics are important to car owners, and rubber mats meet that requirement by coming in a variety of colors and designs that fit anyone's taste.
- Make sure to clean your mats by washing them thoroughly when you see that they are dirty. Always dry them off before returning them to the car.
- Vacuum the carpets while your mats are drying. Vacuuming will remove any outside elements that may have become embedded in the carpet before placing mats back in the vehicle.
- Consider using a protective spray on the carpet before adding the mats. This can help keep moisture—spilled drinks, wet boots—from getting absorbed and give you time to wipe up mishaps. It also helps prevent mold from growing in damp, dark places.
- Don't forget the trunk of your car or SUV. Install a cargo liner to keep ice skates, boots, backpacks, hiking gear and other items from getting the carpet in that area wet, thus allowing mold or musty odors.

Cynthia Bryant

My name is Cynthia Bryant, and I am a graduate of The Seeing Eye. The photo shows me with my third Seeing Eye® dog, a yellow Labrador/golden retriever named Summer, on the campus of The Seeing Eye.

While I learned early on about Harriet Tubman, a pioneer for the underground railroad, abolitionist, and humanitarian, I did not know she was also visually impaired until well into my adult years. Facing my own vision loss, I could identify with her resilience to persevere despite a visual impairment and persistent seizures. In some ways, her dedication to freedom and dignity for African Americans is not unlike The Seeing Eye's mission of independence and dignity for blind and visually impaired people through partnership with a Seeing Eye dog. Both have paved the way for opportunity, and I am most definitely a beneficiary.

Historical figures matter because they influence the future, including mine. Today, as the first graduate and first African-American to be the Chair of The Seeing Eye Board of Trustees, I pay tribute to Harriet Tubman for her tenacity and visionary pursuits.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny. If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

SHOULD PET OWNERS WORRY ABOUT FEEDING GRAIN-FREE DIETS? AND WHAT IS TAURINE?

Submitted By Patsy Nelson

Back in July, 2018, The New York Times, (as well as internet reports) printed an article about the possible connection of grain-free foods and canine heart disease. "The condition is dilated cardiomyopathy, or D.C.M., in which the heart weakens and becomes enlarged. Symptoms include fatigue, difficulty breathing, coughing and fainting. Some dogs can abruptly go into heart failure. D.C.M. is typically seen in large breed dogs that have a genetic predisposition for it, like Doberman Pinschers, Irish Wolfhounds, Boxers and Great Danes. But CVCA, a practice of 19 veterinary cardiologists in the Baltimore-Washington, D.C. area, alerted the F.D.A. that it has been seeing D.C.M. among other breeds, including Golden Retrievers, Doodle mixes, Labrador Retrievers and Shih Tzus. The common factor was a diet heavy in peas, lentils, chickpeas, and potatoes-carbohydrates typically intended to replace grains."*

As this news was hitting the media, customers related their concerns to us at The Wagging Tail. Recently, it seems, some customers are hearing about this for the first time, or as repeated information. Last summer, we received a letter from the Fromm Family Pet Food Company. According to the letter, the University of California Davis, School of Veterinary Medicine is conducting a study to better understand the impact of Taurine-deficient D.C.M. The headlines indicate a link between heart disease and grain-free diets, but the focus is really on how dogs metabolize taurine and the impact of taurine on heart health. "It is important to note that Fromm has supplemented grain-free and grain-inclusive diets with taurine for several years. While we carefully watch for further FDA notifications and monitor results of the various studies, we want our retailers and consumers to feel confident knowing Fromm, has and will continue to supplement recipes with taurine."

There is no need to panic according to Martine Hartogensis, a veterinarian who is deputy director for the Office of Surveillance and Compliance in the F.D.A.'s Center for Veterinary Medicine. There have not been any recalls up to now and considering the millions of dogs who eat grain-free diets every day without issues, the number of dogs who have had problems is minimal. It is important to note as well, that there has been no strong evidence that grain-free diets are that much better than grain inclusive diets. In fact, I tell my customers that when I went up to Wisconsin to visit the Fromm Family Foods operation and visit their facilities, they said that they got into grain-free foods to satisfy the growing demand, when in fact, their best-selling food is their regular Adult Gold food which includes grains. Unless you know for sure that your pet has specific allergic reactions to certain grains, it is unnecessary to feed grain-free food to your pet. I hoped this has helped allay concerns.

Taurine is a by-product of the sulphurous amino acids cysteine and methionine and is therefore an amino sulphonic acid. Taurine plays a big part in the maintenance of organ and cell function. It is substantially more concentrated in the heart muscles than other amino acids and thus it has an anti-arrhythmic as well as a positive inotropic effect on the heart, "meaning it increases the regularity and strength of the heart concentration. Besides the blood pressure regulating properties, supplementation with taurine can be useful to lower cholesterol levels, as taurine stimulates the gall bladder."
