ARIES (Mar. 21- April 20)

This week pushes you from impulse to intention. What sparked under last week's full moon now needs structure, not speed. A conversation, contract, or choice gains momentum - shape it before it shapes you. Your fire is focused, not frantic, and that's your power. TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)

The dust begins to settle around a money or boundary issue, revealing what truly matters. A practical solution replaces the emotional charge, giving you a clearer path forward. Stick to what supports your long-term security; everything else is noise you don't

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

After last week's full-moon peak, a softer honesty settles in. You're integrating what you learned about yourself, and a key relationship responds accordingly. Whether you're redefining a role or reclaiming your voice, this is your recalibration week - steady, honest, true.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

Your inner world stabilizes as you clear another layer of mental clutter. A work or health shift gives you more breathing room than you expected. Guard your energy like it's currency - small boundaries now prevent bigger burnout later. LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Social sparks continue, but now the glow becomes more meaningful. A friend steps up, a project comes alive, or a creative idea gets real traction. Follow the warmth - it's pointing you toward people and plans that actually fuel your joy. VIRGO (Aug. 23 -Sept. 23)

Visibility stays high, but pressure eases. You're tying up a professional thread, and a private matter you've juggled starts smoothing out. Give yourself credit for navigating both. A small home or family fix restores your equilibrium more than you realize. LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Your mental landscape widens: a message, meeting, or moment of clarity shifts how you see the future. Inspiration isn't random it's a nudge. Trust your instincts about what to learn, say, or plan next. Your voice lands with precision right now. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Finances or feelings continue their cleanout cycle, but the tone changes. Instead of confronting, you're reorganizing - recovering control piece by piece. A small release (of a bill, belief, or burden) opens a bigger emotional doorway than you expect. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 -Dec. 21)

Relationship truths crystallize. Someone's actions - not their words - tell you exactly where they stand. Instead of reacting, you're responding with maturity and direction. This week upgrades your partnerships by revealing who's genuinely aligned with your path. CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

The energy shifts from overload to optimization. A system, schedule, or support you introduce makes everything run smoother. Your body responds immediately. Efficiency isn't just practical - it's healing. Protect the habits that protect you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

The spark from last week turns into momentum. A passion project, flirtation, or creative plan gets a tangible next step. Follow curiosity wherever it leads - you're reconnecting with the part of you that thrives on possibility.
PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

6

Home and heart stay in focus, but this week brings clarity instead of confusion. A conversation lands with surprising gentleness, or a domestic decision finally feels right. Neptune's fresh traction helps you trust your intuition again - it's been waiting for you to listen.

4. Pack smartly. Use compression bags or cubes to shrink jackets and sweaters. Tuck socks and gloves inside shoes to save space. Roll your clothes into a bunch instead of folding them to reduce wrinkles. Keep your electronic devices warm with hand warmers so frigid temperatures do not drain your batteries quickly.

5. Protect head, hands and feet. Travel with touchscreen-friendly gloves, hats and scarves for everyone. Always carry spare socks and gloves to stay dry and reduce the risk of frostbite. Choose insulated and water-resistant boots with thick merino wool socks that stay warm even when damp. Looking for extra warmth outdoors? Slip chemical hand warmers into your boots and gloves.

HOW DOGS COMMUNICATE TO US

Submitted By Patsy Nelson

Right now, as I type this, Ebby is being vocal behind my chair. I look around to see if the other desk chair is facing the right way for her to access the seat. That is her usual request, But no, she looks up to where Zoey is in a doggy bed on top of a three-foot cabinet by my side. In the bed are her morning treats she has yet to eat. Ebby wants them. She gives up and mounts the chair. It's quiet now, except for Christmas music coming out of Alexa. Since retiring I spend many more hours in the day with our pets. The dogs have become even more attached, as if that were possible. And we have developed a more complex level of communication both vocally, facially, and physically- as in hand signaling. I recently wrote about fear barking. When a dog is frightened and backs up barking or barks and attacks, like ankle biting. Many dogs will growl first in warning. One time a new customer brought a dog into the store and was at the counter. I offered the smallish dog a treat which it took. Then I offered another and the dog shot at me with a menacing cacophony of barks and bared teeth that brought up my PTSD which occurred after an aggressive improperly handled pit bull attacked me. (I saw him running towards me. Having turned my back to protect myself, he bit into my butt and then tore my arm open at which point the owner got control of his collar.) Just so you know, I don't hold that against pit bulls in general. That woman should never have brought such a reactive dog into a public area where a child could have been the one reaching innocently towards it. Dogs communicate with barking to get their point across need to go to the bathroom, someone's at the door, hearing other dogs barking nearby, there's a strange animal in the yard, the other dog has my toy, I heard you say let's go for a walk, who are those strangers walking on my turf, I want help getting on the sofa. They also learn to communicate in other ways. Zoey lets me know when she needs the bowls to have fresh water by standing in front of them (upstairs or downstairs) and catching my attention. She patiently waits for me to wash the bowl and refill it. When she wants to sleep under the covers, she awakens me by trying to angle the covers so that I will lift them and she can scoot under.

Sometimes barking dogs can be a nuisance and there are local ordinances against constant annoying barking. I get anxious if my dogs bark before 8:00 in the morning or after 10:00 at night. I make it a point to go out with them in all weather and use my can of behavior controlling spray if they start barking "unnecessarily" and bother the neighbors. Yelling at a dog, which I sometimes do, only excites them more. To them we are joining in the conversation! Yippee.
