Release the week of February 9 - 15, 2024

HOROSCOPE

FEBRUARY 8 - FEBRUARY 14, 2024

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

You will be focused on your career for the first part of the week, Aries, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You might be developing big work projects, or you may be met with recognition or new opportunities at work. You will also be thinking about your long term career goals and what is worth committing to moving forward. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you may be seeing friends or organising a group activity. You could also be more optimistic about your future, or you might be putting effort into dating and meeting new people.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

You will be motivated to learn at the start of the week, Taurus, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You might be reading or doing research, or you could be making progress with a piece of writing or public speaking work. You might be travelling too, or you're feeling connected to your spiritual beliefs. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, work will be picking up. You may be met with significant job opportunities, or you could be thinking about what direction you want to pivot in next with your responsibilities and overall career path.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

You will be introspective at the start of the week, Gemini, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You might be having emotionally open conversations with people, and you could want to better understand yourself and why you have certain reactions and behaviours. You may simply be paying off bills or making a big purchase too. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you could be inspired to learn, and you may be developing a teaching or writing project. You could even be enrolling in a class, or you might be preparing to travel in the near future.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

You will feel connected to people at the start of the week, Cancer, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You may be going on a date or spending quality time with your partner or a good friend. However, you could be addressing underlying problems in a relationship, or you might be working on communicating openly with someone. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you may be reflecting on your behaviours, and you could want to improve upon certain aspects of yourself. You may also be looking for ways to save or invest your money for the future.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

You will be sticking to a solid routine at the start of the week, Leo, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You may feel extra productive at work, as you cross numerous small tasks off of your to-do list. You may also be exercising regularly or cooking healthy meals for yourself. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you will be establishing new relationships. You could be going on a date or entering into a new chapter of your current relationship. You may also be spending quality time with a friend or forming a business partnership.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

You will be slowing down and relaxing at the start of the week, Virgo, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You may be socialising with friends, or you could want to tend to a creative hobby outside of work. You may also be reflecting on how you can inject your unique point of view into a passion project. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you may be motivated to develop healthy habits. You could be exercising regularly, or you may be making an effort to cook nutritious meals. New work opportunities may arise as well.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

You will be tending to activities around the home at the start of the week, Libra, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You may be cleaning and organising your living space, or you could be visiting with family. You may feel more introverted too, or you could be reflecting on childhood memories and family dynamics. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you will be carving out time to develop hobbies or creative projects. You may also be building greater confidence in your unique skills, or you're finding outlets for self expression, like painting or dancing, for example.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You will be moving around at the start of the week, Scorpio, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You might be attending events, running errands, or meeting up with friends. You could also have ideas flowing to you for writing or speaking related work. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you may begin to see more activity take place at home. You could be preparing to travel or move homes, or you may be calling or visiting your family more frequently. You could be a bit emotional about family relationships though, or you're feeling nostalgic.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

You will be motivated at work at the start of the week, Sagittarius, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You may be developing work projects and asserting your own ideas. You could also be shopping for yourself or dealing with numerous expenses that are popping up. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, your attention will shift to your social life. You may be scheduling meet-ups with friends, or you could want to attend an event in your city. In addition, you might be travelling somewhere nearby, or you're reading more or taking a quick workshop.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22- Jan. 20)

You will feel seen by other people at the start of the week, Capricorn, as the moon moves through your sign. You may be approached about new opportunities, or you could be paying greater attention to your personal style and how you're presenting yourself to the world. You will also be gaining confidence in what sets you apart from people. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you might be launching new work projects or getting your own business ideas off the ground. On the other hand, you could simply be shopping more than usual.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

You will want to slow down and rest at the start of the week, Aquarius, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You could be a bit emotional, or you may be tending to work and hobbies behind the scenes. You may also be finding peace in a journaling or meditation practice. With the new moon in your sign on Friday, you will be ready to set personal goals and pivot in a different life direction over the coming months. You may be approached about exciting opportunities, or you could be announcing something you've worked on for a while.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

You will be connecting with friends at the start of the week, Pisces, as the moon moves through Capricorn. You could be organising a group activity, or you may be joining a community event. You may also be inspired to set new goals for your future. With the new moon in Aquarius on Friday, you will be slowing down and taking time to rest. You may be letting go of a situation, relationship, or mindset that is no longer serving you, or you could be turning to a spiritual practice, like astrology or meditation, to feel at peace.

Super Bowl Fun Facts – The Big Game By The Numbers

Super Bowl LVIII (58) will crown either the San Francisco 49ers or the Kansas City Chiefs as champions of the National Football League's 103rd season. This will be the eighth Super Bowl for the 49ers, who have achieved victory five times, with the last one being in 1995. On the other side, this is the sixth time the Chiefs have made it to the Super Bowl, with the team having taken home the trophy three times, including last year.

It's no wonder why millions of people will tune in to this big sporting event on television. But the fact that we'll again consume more than a billion chicken wings while watching billions of dollars' worth of commercials with a bit of football mixed in might just boggle your mind. And if you want interesting Super Bowl facts, we've got plenty more where that came from.

Only time will tell which team will come out on top this year. But we can certainly get you prepared for the action in the meantime. Below, you'll find an awesome infographic with our favorite Super Bowl LVIII fun facts, plus a Q&A with a panel of sports business experts. Enjoy the game!

Top 5 Super Bowl Facts for 2024:

- $6,680: The average cost of a ticket to the past five Super Bowls.
- $8,586; Lowest price of a Super Bowl LVIII ticket on the resale market just after the conference championships (113% increase from 2023).
- $1.1B: Estimated economic impact for the Southern Nevada economy in 2024.
- 16.2M: Americans plan to watch the game at a bar or restaurant.
- 192%: 20-year increase in the cost of a 30-second Super Bowl ad.

A record number of Americans are expected to tune into Super Bowl LVIII, with consumer spending linked to the game also forecast to hit an all-time high, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

More than 200 million U.S. adults plan to watch the Super Bowl, according to a survey from the National Retail Federation — that's well over half the country's population of 335 million — and more than half of those fans say they'll either host or attend a watch party. Another 16 million fans plan to watch from a bar or restaurant, the trade group found.

Such numbers underline the event's sheer economic scale. In all, spending on food, drinks, apparel, party decorations and other categories related to the Super Bowl is expected to reach $17.3 billion, according to the NRF. That's up about $1 billion from last year's game and breaks down to roughly $86 per person.

It also adds up to serious revenue for a wide array of businesses. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the event, which pits the Kansas City Chief against the San Francisco 49ers, is expected to generate an additional $500 million for the Las Vegas economy. That includes a projected 150,000 visitors to the city who are forecast to spend $215 million in spending on food and beverages, hotel rooms, game-related merchandise and other items.

Such figures don't include the vast sums likely to be waged on the Super Bowl in what is, after all, the gambling capital of the U.S. Nearly 68 million American adults — about 1 in 4 — plan to bet on the contest, according to the American Gaming Association. That includes bets placed with legal outlets, as well as with illegal bookies and online operations in other countries.

Super Bowl LVIII will air on CBS and Nickelodeon and stream on Paramount+ on Feb. 11 from Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas. Kickoff is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Eastern time.

Recipe of the Week

by Chef Chip

ASIAN OSTRICH/EMU MEATBALLS

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 lb Ground Ostrich or Emu
- 1/4 lb Ground Pork
- 1 Large Egg
- 1 Tbsp Worcestershire Sauce
- 1 Tbsp Soy Sauce
- 1 Tbsp Hoisin Sauce
- 1 Tbsp Oyster Sauce
- 1 Tbsp Chili Sauce
- 1 Tbsp Pineapple Juice
- 1 Tbsp Honey
- 1/2 tsp Oregano
- 1 tsp Onion Powder
- 1/2 tsp Garlic Powder
- 1/2 tsp Ground Ginger
- 1/2 cup Short Grain Rice, Cooked & Cooled
- 2 Tbsp Panko Bread Crumbs

PREPARATION:

In a medium size bowl, mix all ingredients except rice by hand. After everything is incorporated, gently fold in rice. Roll into equal size balls and place on a sheetpan lined with parchment paper. Bake in a preheated 350° oven to an internal temperature of 165°. Enjoy!

Around the Cape

This elegant home was built by the renowned builder Anthony Christaldi using his stunning craftsmanship for crown molding, columns and intricate mill work throughout every room making the home an impeccable masterpiece. From the roof to the basement is nothing less than perfection. The entrance is enchanting with a large foyer and sweeping horseshoe stairs, a large family room, booklined study, formal dining room with wainscoting, recessed lighting around the ceiling and lovely artwork. A gourmet kitchen with custom cabinets, Sub Zero and Wolf Pro appliances, dining area overlooking the patio, at the top of the stairs is a sun filled room, featuring large windows for views, gas fireplace and the ambience for peace and quiet. Each bedroom is en suite with the Master bedroom having cathedral ceilings, his/her walk in closets, a soaking tub, fireplace and glass enclosed shower. If you like to entertain, the lower level is the place to be with a bar area, cafe with booths, billiard table, card table and your own theater and a Sauna. The backyard is spacious and private with a large deck and patio area as well as a small fountain. Located steps away from the Union League National Golf Course, great for the golf enthusiasts. The description and pictures do not do justice to what a personal tour can provide, your eyes will be amazed at the elegance and craftsmanship of this home. All furnishings are negotiable. There is an Home Owners Association and fees are $450.00 a year. A copy of the HOA documents will be provided to Buyer. Seller is selling the home "AS IS" "WHERE IS", and needs to obtain suitable housing prior to closing.

HOW TO COMBAT THOSE WINTER ODORS IN YOUR VEHICLE, PT 1

Concerns related to odors and mold persist in vehicles throughout the year, but as cold weather settles in, they can bring different challenges to drivers. Prolonged exposure to the elements and moisture, both within the vehicle's interior and its systems, can cause significant problems for your car, as well as potential health implications for yourself.

What exactly is that smell? If you've experienced cold climates for any length of time, chances are you've encountered that musty odor upon entering a car. This smelly situation is particularly common with older models or vehicles stored outdoors during winter. Various issues can contribute to these peculiar smells. During winter, one main cause for odor is moisture accumulation in the air conditioning and ventilation system. Inactivity allows this moisture to foster a stale odor and, if left untreated, it may lead to more mold. Running your AC on high for a mile or more might sometimes alleviate the issue. If the odor persists or quickly returns, it could indicate a more significant problem like a leak or clog. In such cases, consult your mechanic for a thorough inspection. Another potential source of the smell is the cabin air filter, which can become dirty and musty over time. Regular replacement is crucial and is usually something that can be done during your car's scheduled oil changes. Filters not only harbor mold but also accumulate dust and pollen, exacerbating allergies and respiratory problems. Changing the cabin air filter every 12 months or 12,000 miles, or sooner if you detect unusual smells or debris entering the interior when using the vents, is essential. This routine maintenance not only ensures clean and healthy air but also enhances heating and AC performance, along with defogging capabilities.

Outside elements can cause an odor issue inside. The source of unpleasant odors in your car may not necessarily be the vehicle itself; it could be the result of actions by the driver. If you or someone in your car consumes food or drinks, there's a possibility that food particles or liquid may have fallen beneath a seat or into the interior's crevices. Unnoticed, these areas could breed mold, contributing to your car's unpleasant smell. Also, food smells may be absorbed by the vehicle's fabrics. In the event of a flood, mold can be a lingering issue for your vehicle even if you believe it was completely dried out. Especially in older models, the floorboards and carpets may have absorbed moisture, leading to mold development. Water seeping into sealed compartments that house wiring and circuitry could result in significant electrical problems, in addition to causing unpleasant odors. Another potential source of unpleasant smells could be wet clothes or sweaty gym gear left in your car. Damp or dirty clothes placed on your vehicle's fabrics or carpets may transfer moisture and germs, adding to your car's odor problem...

FEBRUARY IS NATIONAL PET DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

Submitted By
Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

Which was established to bring awareness to pet owners about the grave importance of good dental health. Some of the following information is from an article written by Dr Joyce Voss, Director of Veterinary Services & Animal Care at SICSA Adoption & Wellness Center, and my own input.

As most of you may recall, I currently have 2 dogs. Zoey is a 8-year old Maltese, appx. 10 lbs, & Ebby's a 20 lbs 7-year old rescue mix of Chihuahua with possibly Lhasa Apso or Cocker. I just did another DNA test on her since the first one was wrong. I have never been one to brush my pets' teeth. I am just not that patient, & I disagree with some information that says once a week is generally sufficient. I also discount the value of you paying a groomer to brush your pet's teeth for you. For one, you usually would not be present for the procedure so you don't know if, or how well it was done. Secondly, if that is your once every 2-month dental treatment, that would hardly manage the dental health of your pet. I rely on other methods which I will talk about later.

Dr. Voss states that once the baby teeth are gone (often swallowed), dogs have 42 adult teeth & cats have 30. The development & proper growth of the permanent teeth, including appropriate location & orientation of the teeth are important genetic & developmental factors that may affect later dental health. Zoey for example has a very small mouth & some crooked teeth. Dr. Voss adds that small dogs & those that may need braces (like Zoey), & dogs with shorter noses are more prone to dental problems. I have not chanced looking at Ebby's teeth as there are some things our fear-biter will not yet tolerate. However, when I play with her, she opens her mouth & her teeth look good, with the preventative measures I utilize. It is very important to get your pet used to you checking all of their teeth while they are still young. It is harder with rescues that have not been handled that way, so you will need dental checkups. When Ebby has her appointment on Feb 12th, I'll ask to have her teeth checked. She may not allow it as she got quite aggressive, so we had to muzzle her to do the DNA test. I am also going to talk about putting her on Prozac.

The biggest concern with pets is the buildup of plaque, a film that turns teeth yellow as a result of saliva, bacteria, & debris. The plaque eventually becomes tartar (brown), which if not treated leads to gingivitis (gum inflammation), & periodontal disease. Only about half of pet owners brush their pets' teeth, & only about 10% brush daily. Don't rely on dry kibble or hard biscuits to clean the teeth for you. How many dogs or cats spend much time masticating their food (grinding, chewing, mashing)? How often has your cat thrown up whole pieces of kibble? Most pets gobble their food quickly, unless they are grazers, which in many cases is because the food is not that appetizing. The best diet with kibble is to add a variety of canned protein, or freeze-dried toppers, & as much COOL water as the dog can handle. Don't let the food soften. The act of drinking WHILE eating moves food faster through the gut for better gut health. I use the example of how hard it would be for you to digest a beer pretzel without simultaneously drinking a beverage.

What I do for my cats & dogs is multi-faceted. I put dental additive in their water bowls each time I change the water. I use gel on the dogs' teeth every morning as we awaken. Zoey allows me to work the gel to the back and along the gum line over all her teeth. Ebby licks it off my finger because the only time she will allow my fingers in her mouth is during play. Then they don't get anything to eat or drink for 30 min; Zoey's teeth are still beautiful as a result. They get dental chews at bedtime, I prefer Plaque Off over Greenies, & I also use Yummy Combs (more expensive, but more effective); sometimes N-Bones. Various chew bones help as well, especially frozen raw bones, which we carry in a variety of sizes.
