ARIES (Mar. 21- April 20)

The solstice energy arrives, turning your focus toward long-term goals. A new intention planted around the Sagittarius New Moon gains quiet strength. Commitment replaces scattered effort - your ambition finds its foundation, steady and enduring. TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)

Perspectives broaden as the Sun shifts into Capricorn. A belief, trip, or learning opportunity crystallizes into something tangible. Ground your insights in reality; practical steps now secure the expansion you crave without overextension. GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Deep sharing or financial clarity emerges mid-week. The Capricorn ingress highlights intimacy and resources - vulnerabilities turn into strengths through honest exchange. Trust the process of merging; what's shared multiplies your security. CANCER (June 22-July 22)

Relationships take center stage with the solstice spotlight on partnerships. A connection deepens or a commitment solidifies. Venus' late-week move adds warmth - balance giving and receiving for harmony that lasts. LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Routines refine as Capricorn season begins. A health, work, or daily habit upgrade brings renewed vitality. Small disciplines yield big rewards - your radiance returns through structure that supports, not restricts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 23)

Creativity and joy ignite with the Sun's shift. A romance, project, or playful pursuit gains serious momentum. Invest in what delights you - Capricorn's discipline turns inspiration into something beautifully real. LIBRA (Sept. 24 -Oct. 23)

动

Home and roots anchor as the solstice turns inward. A family matter resolves or a living space improves with practical care. Venus' arrival softens the edges - nurture your foundation for emotional steadiness ahead. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Communication sharpens under Capricorn's influence. A conversation, contract, or idea takes solid form. Speak with intention your words carry weight now, building bridges or boundaries that endure.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 -Dec. 21)

Value and worth come into focus with the Sun entering your money zone. A resource or self-esteem boost arrives through disciplined effort. Venus joins late-week - abundance flows when you honor what truly matters.

CAPRÍCORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

Your season begins with the solstice, renewing your personal power. The Sun lights your sign, followed by Venus' graceful entry. Step forward with quiet confidence - this is your time to shine and attract.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

Reflection deepens before your birthday cycle. Release old patterns as Capricorn energy closes the year. Inner work now clears space - intuition guides subtle shifts toward greater freedom in the new year.
PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

Community and future dreams solidify. A friendship, group, or aspiration finds practical support under the solstice sky. Connect with aligned souls - shared goals gain traction, grounding your visions in reality.

EVEN THE MUSHERS IN ALASKA PUT JACKETS ON THEIR DOGS

Submitted By Patsy Nelson

Last week when the snow came and the cold arctic-like winds blew dipping the chill factors into the teens, I envisioned all the "naked" pets being put out in the cold to do their business, or worst, taken for a walk. "They have a coat, their fur, you say." Because they live in a heated house, they don't grow a proper winter coat. Exposing them to the bitter winds is the equivalent of you standing outside with them in your cotton pajamas. When a dog gets cold the blood rushes to protect the organs and forsakes the joints, making for joint pain and potential arthritis. If I need layers in the house, I put a soft jacket or a Gold Paw fleece on Zoey and Ebby. Then depending on the cold and the wind, I vary the weight of the jacket they get over the clothing they wear in the house. I treated my horse the same way and she was in my care from the age of five until she passed at the age of 34.

Sled dogs live outside all year, so they grow a winter double coat, and shed in the summer. Proper mushers give each dog an elevated wooden doghouse with thick layers of straw for insulation, high doors, extended roofs over doorways, and sometimes an inner divider for additional wind protection. Sled dogs are a special breed with their countercurrent blood circulation in their paws, like penguins and arctic foxes. (Not enough room here to explain how that works. But an interesting read.) We met a famous musher when we went on an Alaskan two-week cruise 5 years ago.

Mushers provide their sled dogs with dog booties which are soft fabric shoes to reduce ice abrasions and accumulation of snow between their toes. Sled dogs are covered with specialized insulated jackets during excessive cold spells or high winds whether they are running or resting. Fleece or polpro blankets are placed over the dogs when they sleep in their thick mound of straw. The dogs cocoon themselves and cover their faces with their bushy tails so that they are breathing in warm air. Belly wraps or Fox tails are used to cover their reproductive organs from frost bite. Some mushers, I'd be one, put leggings on their dogs to reduce the build up of snow in the fur of their legs.

Working sled dogs need 10,000-12,000 calories a day during a race. High-fat diets include raw beef, fish, and fat, as well as nutrient dense kibble. And they must stay hydrated, so the mushers "bait" their water with chunks of meat or fat to encourage them to drink. Sometimes they are given warm broth to maintain their internal core temperature. The point I am trying to make is, as a pet parent it is your responsibility to give your dog the weather protection you take care to give yourself. I welcome comments, or article requests, or pictures of pets, or stories, or just to say hello at my email patsyrob1@gmail.com. Our long-time resident cat, Lisa, died in her sleep among her cat buddies, sometime in the early morning, Tuesday. We will miss her.
