HOROSCOPE

OCTOBER 2 - OCTOBER 8, 2025

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

You're getting clearer on what you want - but are you communicating it? This week invites honest conversations and sharper boundaries in relationships, both personal and professional. Speak your truth, but stay open to hearing theirs too. Growth happens when you both show up fully.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

You're craving order, but something in your routine isn't clicking anymore. This is your cue to make small changes with big impact - especially around time, health, or workflow. Don't wait for a crisis to realign your priorities. Peace is built in the details.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Your creative energy is returning, and you're more magnetic than you realize. This is a powerful week for expression - romantic, artistic, or otherwise. Stop second-guessing the fun stuff. Joy isn't a distraction; it's fuel.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

You're being called inward—toward your roots, your home, or a private truth that's rising to the surface. Let yourself rest or retreat if needed. A family dynamic may ask for healing, not fixing. You're allowed to prioritize your emotional security.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

You've got something to say, and this week is your chance to say it with power and clarity. Whether it's a pitch, proposal, or personal truth, speak from the heart and back it up with facts. Just don't underestimate the impact of listening. The dialogue matters more than the delivery.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

You're fine-tuning the systems that support your life - budget, schedule, habits, all of it. This is a back-to-basics week, but with big payoff if you're intentional. Reinvest your energy where it actually returns something. You're not being picky—you're being precise.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Your season is in full swing, and the spotlight is yours - but this week is more about inner balance than outer validation. What do you need to feel aligned, not just admired? A personal breakthrough is within reach. Start with truth, and let the rest follow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Your intuition is loud right now - don't dismiss it. Something behind the scenes is shifting, and your next move may come from silence rather than action. Rest, reflect, and recalibrate. You're not retreating; you're refining.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

You're reconnecting with your vision for the future - and the allies who can help you build it. This week favors brainstorming, community involvement, or cause-driven collaboration. Just don't lose your individuality in the crowd. Align before you commit.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan. 20)

You're standing at a crossroads professionally, and the choice may require more vulnerability than strategy. A new direction is possible - but not without risk. Trust your instincts over optics. What you choose now could define your next chapter.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

Your mind wants to stretch, and this week opens a door for new ideas, learning, or perspective shifts. Travel, study, or even a deep conversation could unlock something meaningful. Stay curious - not just about the world, but about your own beliefs too.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

You're in deep waters this week - emotionally, financially, or spiritually. Don't shy away from the uncomfortable truths rising to the surface. You're stronger than your old coping patterns. What you release now clears space for something much more sustaining.

CHEF CHIP'S WILD GAME AND SEAFOOD RECIPE

SCALLOP KEBABS

INGREDIENTS:

*Yields 6 Kebabs

- 18 Large Fresh Sea Scallops
- 12 Button Mushrooms
- 12 Pieces 1 Inch Dice Red Onions
- 12 Pieces 1 Inch Dice Red Bell Pepper
- 6 Cherry Tomatoes
- 1 Cup Lemon Vinaigrette
- Kosher Salt & Fresh Cracked Black To Taste
- 6 Skewers

PREPARATION:

If you are using wooden or bamboo skewers, you must pre-soak them in water for twenty minutes. Next, arrange the skewers one at a time. For each of the skewers, start by running a skewer through a scallop sideways. Be sure to run the scallop towards the bottom of the skewer while leaving a little skewer exposed at the bottom. Next, add a piece of onion, mushroom & bell pepper tightly against the scallop. Repeat the process one more time for each skewer. Finish each skewer with a third scallop & a cherry tomato on top. Place the skewers in the bottom of a container. Pour the lemon Vinaigrette over the kebabs. Roll them around in the Vinaigrette until thoroughly coated. Cover & refrigerate for 4 hours. Remove the kebabs from the container to a plate or rack. Preheat grill to medium high temperature. Spray the grill with nonstick spray. Allow excess oil to run off skewers before placing them on the grill. Cook until scallops have reached medium internal temperature. Serve over a bed of greens or a bed of rice. Enjoy!

Before I continue, I would like to let those who read my articles and support The Wagging Tail, that I have taken an extended leave of absence. I am available through my email, patsyrob1@gmail.com, if you need help with a pet problem, have an idea for an article, or simply want to say hello. If you need your cat's nails trimmed, we can figure that out.

There have been several studies done on this topic over the last fifteen years, but a recent article on my computer caught my attention today. I googled and found the one I am using for this article.

Apparently, the presence of a dog(s) and/or assorted farm animals, can alter the gut microbiome in humans. The gut microbiome is a collection of microorganisms like bacteria, viruses, and fungi that live in our gut, and on our skin. In babies these microbes are still developing and stabilizing. A diverse microbiome increases a child's chances of withstanding the development of eczema, asthma, allergies, obesity, and other chronic ailments. The immune system is strengthened by exposure to various microbes and dander in the environment, especially from infancy through three years of age. "Sufficient exposure to dog allergens in the first year of life may train the immune system to become tolerant rather than reactive, thus preventing an allergic response."

Pets help youngsters (and adults) in emotional ways too. Pets in the home promote a child's emotional self-esteem, social skills and can introduce a sense of responsibility. One could spend hours on YouTube looking at photos after adorable photos of children interacting with their pets. Having a pet can help children develop empathy and compassion, confidence, and language skills. Pets encourage more physicality through play and care giving. Pets aid in developing motor skills. Pets also reduce loneliness, whether because of being the only child, or feeling left out if there is a newborn, or a loss in the family. When I feel stressed at home, I will bury my face in Zoey (Ebby would probably growl) and hug her until I feel calmer. When I worked, I would go into the cat rooms and do the same, usually with Squeaks, the cat my friend Pat adopted from The Wagging Tail about 9 years ago. When Pat died, almost three years ago, I brought Squeaks to become part of our forever store cats. (Our two cats at home are witchy with each other. Jealousy over Bob and me I think, so Squeaks would not do well with them.) Animals are great for bringing down your blood pressure and soothing your distress if you let them. I don't think I could ever live without a pet. I never have.
